2017 International Conference Awards

Tuesday, May 2
Fellowship in Cardiovascular Perfusion Award

- This award is presented annually to the individual who has presented the most outstanding scientific paper on a research project at the International Conference.
- This year’s recipient is Junaid H. Khan for the presentation titled “Blood and Blood Product Conservation: Results of Strategies to Improve Clinical Outcomes in Open Heart Surgery Patients at a Tertiary Hospital”.
Scientific Poster Award

- This award is presented annually to the individual who, in the opinion of the judges, has presented the most outstanding poster at AmSECT’s International Conference.

- This year’s recipient is Allison Treanor for the Poster Presentation entitled “Heparin Management During Cardiopulmonary Bypass; Monitoring Heparin Concentration And ACT Versus ACT Alone”
Scientific Presentation by a Student Award

- This award is presented annually in recognition of the most outstanding scientific paper presented at AmSECT’s International Conference by a student.
- This year’s recipient is Benjamin Alouidor for the presentation titled “R-Oxy-LVAD: A Novel Minimally Invasive Off Pump Method for Central Oxygenation with Biventricular Decompression”.
Ed Ristaino Memorial Scholarship Award

- AmSECT is pleased this year to offer a second student presentation award, sponsored by the North Carolina Society of Perfusion. I’d like to introduce (North Carolina person) of NCSP to present the inaugural award.

- This year’s recipient is Erin M. Friesenborg for the presentation titled Can low Preoperative Albumin Levels Predict Heparin Resistance? An Observational Analysis of Two Large Hospital Centers

- Award Sponsored by: